"Mixcraft is simply the best multitrack recording, editing, processing, and mastering software! Its ease of use compared to the 'Industry Standardware' blows me away every time I use it to compose, perform, record or just jam. With all the available samples, loops, and plug-ins at your fingers, it makes it easy for even the beginning musician to blossom a little bit faster than the rest!"

"I just want to thank you guys for making the mixing of my CD an absolute joy. Having tried all the freeware and bought the expensive stuff (from Audacity and Kristal to Sonar 5), I can honestly say that the ease with which Mixcraft is used, and the fantastic effects in it are by far the best value I have ever come across! I didn't think I could find a solution that suited my needs like yours, so once again, a heartfelt thanks and well done."

The image shows a screenshot of the Mixcraft software interface, which is a digital audio workstation (DAW). The interface is displayed on a computer monitor, and the background is a light blue gradient. Several callout boxes with white text and black outlines point to specific features of the software. The callouts include: 'Integrated CD burning', 'Mix down to MP3, WAV, WMA, or OGG', 'Add markers to change tempo, time signature, and key', 'Import your own photos or choose from stock icons', 'Automatically snap to grid', 'Set unlimited envelope points (volume, pan, resonant filters)', 'Resizable tracks', 'FlexAudio™ for visual time stretching', 'Multitrack recording using Wave or ASIO drivers', 'Create your own custom loop', 'Automatic beat and key detection', and 'Includes hundreds of loops'. The software interface itself shows a multi-track recording environment with various tracks, a mixer, and a transport control panel. At the bottom of the image, there are two testimonials from users, one from Kevin Toler in San Diego, CA, and one from Martin Davies in Manchester, England.
